FRIENDS OF DOUMA SEND GREETINGS

Body Begins Another Day's Session Much Pleased.

Outlook Made Optimistic Because of the Friendly Relations Exhibiting by Czar.

THE UPPER HOUSE HAS BEGUN

St. Petersburg, May 12.—The duma resumed its sitting today.
President Mouroumzeff read to the deputies numerous telegrams of cordial encouragement and greeting.
Among these was a message from the Finnish diet, a Bohemian society,
several Armenian Catholic societies.
Telegrams from Moscow and the university of Odessa were received urging reform measures. Four telegrams of greeting were received from some political prisoners. The election of officers, which is to occupy the body
today, was shortly begun.

A Friendly Chat.

St. Petersburg, May 12.—The hope of the establishment of friendly relations between the emperor and the national parliament was greatly strengthened yesterday by the audience granted by Emperor Nicholas at Peterhof to Prof. Mouroumzeff, the president of the lower house. Prof.
Mouroumzeff returned apparently much impressed by the emperor's earnest interest in the problems of the country. Though the radical hot-heads had been praying that he would lay down the law to the emperor and make a scene, the half-hour's conversation was skillfully guided so that friction was averted.

To the Constitutional members of the house at the Constitutional club
Prof. Mouroumzeff spoke only idly, laying special emphasis on the emperor's courtesy and consideration and his thorough knowledge of the sentiment in the parliament and society.

Prof. Mouroumzeff said political questions were not gone into, as he regarded it as not fitting that the president of the representative chamber should present at an official audience the views of any group.

Pomp and Pageantry.
The third act in the great drama
of Russian parliamentarianism, the formal opening of the recognized council of the empire or upper house of the parliament took place at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Hall of the Nobles in the winter palace. The pomp and ceremony characteristic of the old Russian official life found vent in the convocation of the council of empire, which, with half the members elected and half appointed, forms the connecting link between the new and the old systems.

TURKEY COMPLIES WITH ENGLAND'S MOVE DEMANDS

There Will Consequently Be No
Clash, As Was the Promise.

Constantinople, May 12.—Turkey today accepted England's demand for the evacuation of Tashah. England's ultimatum expires at midnight tomorrow. If demand had not been accepted action would have been taken to compel Turkey to do as requested.

The circulation of The Sun

Dowle's Condition Critical.

Chicago, May 12.—The condition of John Alexander Dowle is said to be nearing the critical stage. He has fallen, his physician and he might last to his bed and his strength is live a week or ten days, but a fatal termination of the disease within two or three days would not be surprising.

Boy of Tunis Dead.

Tunis, May 12.—Sid Mahammed, Boy of Tunis, died last evening at his summer palace. His cousin, Mahammed El Nasr, succeeds him.

MORE DAMAGING EVIDENCE HEARD

Standard Oil Company Truly
on the Rack.

Direct Charges of Collusion, Bribery
in Commission, Etc., Are Frequently Heard.

OLD EMPLOYEES ARE TESTIFYING

Chicago, May 12.—A number of witnesses gave damaging testimony against the Standard Oil Co. at the interstate commerce commission hearing today. Testimony of many tricks employed by the Standard to secure trade was given.

H. J. Cohn, of St. Louis, for 15 years connected with the Standard Oil company, declared agents of the railroad acted as the agents of the oil company and received commissions on the amount of oil they sold.
He, himself, acting as agent of Standard Oil had, he said, appointed agents
at various places on the Iron Mountain road in Missouri. He had known station agents to resign, he said, because the oil business was taken away from them, and the pay was not sufficiently remunerative otherwise.
Attorneys for the Standard Oil,
during the cross examination of Maxon, an Illinois operator who testified in chief yesterday showed that he had repeatedly written letters to officers of the oil company threatening to make trouble, because he did not consider himself well treated.
Maxon admitted writing the letters,
and said he did it "just for amusement."

Witnesses were A. J. Davidson, president of the St. Louis and San Francisco road, J. F. Tucker, chairman of the Central freight traffic association and H. L. Hibbs, of Peoria, Ill.

STRENUOUS TRIP.

Robert Wilkins and Son Adrift in the River in Disabled Boat.

Mr. Robert Wilkins, of South
Eleventh street, and son of Robert Wilkins, Jr., started two days ago
for Gilbertsville in the gasoline boat
"Lawrence," to visit the former's son, Mr. Walter Wilkins. The latter is stationed there as bridge tender for the I. C. and had not been home in some time. The trip was arranged as a surprise but did not pan out successfully.

The engine gave down—the packing blew out—or something happened to the machinery which made it impossible to continue. Neither Mr.
Wilkins or son could repair the break and they had to drift until they were picked up by a boatman.
They arrived at home yesterday afternoon, having gone no further than Little Cypress. They started up this morning via railroad, taking the morning Louisville accommodation, to make sure of arrival.

FAMILY REUNION.

Dr. B. T. Hall Goes to Graves County
to Attend Family Reunion.

Dr. B. T. Hall left this morning with his wife for Sand Hill, Graves county, to attend a family reunion.
There are three brothers, Dr. B. T.
Hall and Messrs. T. H. and E. T.
Hall. The reunion will take place at the family cemetery. It is an annual reunion held by the three brothers
year after year.

Dangerous Revolution Brewing.

Washington, May 12.—Advises received by the state department from Santo Domingo indicate a revolution is brewing in the republic of possibly greater dimensions than has distributed conditions there since American receivership customs was inaugurated.

THE RATE BILL STILL HANGS FIRE

Not Believed It Will Reach a Vote Ere Wednesday.

Order Given to Harden Philippine Soldiers for Possible Service
in China.

SUGGESTS CONTEMPT ACTION

Washington, May 12.—So many amendments have been offered and so earnest and prolonged has been the debate on the rate bill which still occupies the exclusive attention of the senate, it now looks as though a final vote on the bill will not be reached until Tuesday or Wednesday of next week. Yesterday Senator Bailey's non-suspension amendment was defeated by a practical party vote of 54 to 23. Bailey made a brief talk charging the president with having changed his attitude on the question. In other votes Senator Lafo-lette voted with the democrats on every proposition and Senators Mc-Henry and Morgan with the republicans.

Philippine Soldiers to be Hardened.

Washington, May 12.—Under the direction of the war department Gen.
Leonard Wood, commanding the division of the Philippines has begun
a campaign of thorough preparation of his troops for possible service in China. An order issued by him, providing for an elaborate system of target practice, field marches, sham battles, etc., is for the purpose, as he stated, that the troops of his command shall be fit
for hard field service, was made public today. There is deep interest in the fact just now made public.

Wants Them Cited for Contempt.

Washington, May 12.—Special Counsel Monnett has suggested to the United States attorney general that he file a motion in the supreme court asking that sixty-three railroads in the Central Passenger Association be cited for contempt. He says in the first litigation under the Sherman trust act the railroads were enjoined from co-operation in fixing rates, and states the Standard Oil investigation shows the injunction has been violated by the railroads.

Going to Pieces of Paper Trust.

Appleton, Wis., May 12.—Official notice was received this morning
by all the mills in the Fox river valley
all of whom are members of the General Paper company, notifying them
the company had withdrawn from the field as a selling agency. The mills were notified to supply the trade direct.

Puljanas Makes a Raid.

Manila, P. I., May 12.—The acting governor sends word from the island of Samar that one person was killed and seven injured in a raid
by two hundred Puljanas, who looted and burned a score or more of houses and fled. The raiders also carried away twenty prisoners.

JUDGE ANGERED BY VERDICT.

Rejects Acquittal of Assessor Charged with Neglect of Jury Duty.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 12.—Judge Wilbank yesterday administered a stinging rebuke to one of those juries which are disposed to pass lightly upon offenses against the election laws and render verdicts contrary to the evidence and the law.

The judge indignantly refused to accept a verdict of "not guilty" from a jury which had listened to the case against Lingo Duffy, an assessor, who was charged with willful neglect of jury duty.

The judge had instructed the jury to find a verdict of guilty, but the jury returned one of acquittal.

The judge thought there was some misapprehension on their part as to the instructions he had given them
and again explained the case to them
He then polled the jury and every one answered "not guilty."

"I will not accept the verdict,"
said Judge Wilbank indignantly.
The jury is discharged.

SAN FRANCISCO CANT GET RID OF CHINATOWNS

The Pigsties Have Property Rights Which They Will Retain.

San Francisco, May 12.—A special session of the committee on Chinatown agreed it is impossible to remove the Chinese colony unless the Chinese consent, which they will refuse to do. They will hold the site of Chinatown under property rights.
San Francisco agents of railway companies, some twenty in number,
will soon be housed temporarily in a big one-story building to be erected on state property for railroads. The building will be called the Railroad Arcade.

EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY.

Senate Committee At Work Revising
Bill for Action by Body.

Washington, May 12.—The senate committee on interstate commerce today adopted several amendments to the employers' liability bill.
Its application was made to cover all common carriers instead of railroads
only as provided by the house bill.
The contributory negligence provisions was amended so as to relieve the employer from liability when the accident is caused wholly by the employee's negligence, or to accidents
where two or more persons, equal in authority, are negligent in such manner that an employee is injured. This provision will not relieve the carrier from liability, however, where the employee is injured by reason of carrying out the orders of a foreman or any other person in authority. Several other amendments are pending to the third section of the bill which relates to the relief associations.

HON. CARL SCHURZ DYING IN NEW YORK

Suffers From Brief but Severe Attack of Stomach Trouble

Attending Physician This Morning
Said He Expected His Death
Today.

LIVED A DISTINGUISHED LIFE.

New York, May 12.—Dr. Rudisch
in coming from the home of Hon.
Carl Schurz, this morning said:
"The patient is very low, I don't expect he will live through the day."
Some time later the favorable
condition was said to have continued.
Mr. Schurz is suffering from an illness of the stomach. The present attack was first noticed on Tuesday and since then a physician has remained at Mr. Schurz's bedside.
From the first it was agreed that all the conditions were against Mr.
Schurz.

The announced condition of the distinguished citizen, though no surprise, has cast a gloom over a wide circle of friends.

Biographical.

Carl Schurz, an American statesman and orator of eminence, was born at Liblar, near Cologne, Germany, March 2, 1829. While a student at Bonn university he became implicated in the insurrectionary proceedings of 1849, and was consequently obliged to flee the country.
He came to America in 1852, and after three years in Philadelphia settled in Wisconsin, and in 1856 became known as a political orator in German. Two years later he delivered his first speech in English which was widely circulated, and he was presently conspicuous as a lecturer in American politics and delivered many campaign speeches in the presidential contest of 1860. He was minister to Spain for some months in 1861, and then entering the Union army he distinguished himself as a military commander, attaining the rank of general. Removing to St.
Louis he sat in congress as senator from Missouri, 1869-75, and there was conspicuous as an opponent of several administration measures.
Schurz was secretary of the Interior in the cabinet of President Hayes and edited the "Evening Post" at New York 1881-84. He succeeded Curtis
as president of the Civil Service League, and for a score of years has been conspicuous in his opposition to conventional, partisan politics. He is a polished, eloquent orator
among the latest of whose speeches
is a forcible arraignment of the policy of imperialism. He made a great anti-imperialistic speech at a conference in Chicago October 17, 1899
which was strong in force and very logical.

In the half century he has lived in America Mr. Schurz has been active in many directions in politics, having successively been a republican, democrat and independent. He was one of the founders of the Civil Service Reform Association, of which he was elected president a week ago.

SULTAN OBSCURE.

Great Britain Will Proceed to Bring Him to His Knees.

London, May 12.—The term fixed by the British ultimatum to Turkey expires at midnight Sunday. It is still anticipated in official circles, the porte will accept the demands of Great Britain, but in event of the Sultan proving obdurate, active coercive measures will commence immediately, on the expiration of the period of grace. Full instructions have been sent Vice Admiral Lord Beresford, who is commanding the British fleet at Piraeus. The Turkish ambassador had a lengthy interview with Foreign Secretary Grey this afternoon.

HEAVY INCREASE IN BANK CLEARINGS

Week Shows $170,817.65 Expansion Over Last Year.

General Conditions of Trade, Locally,
Are Very Healthy at the Present Time.

NOTES OF THE TRADES

Bank clearings this week $828,772.65
Same last year ..... 657,955.00
Increase ..... 170,817.65
The bank clearings this week show
a heavy increase over the same week
last year, and are evidence of great activity in the commercial world.
The business of the banks, since the first of the year, has been very good.
Earnings are ahead of last year
with most of the banks, and deposits are showing increases.

The conditions of the general wholesale trade are excellent,—the demands for goods being surprisingly heavy in some lines. Groceries, whisky, dry goods, saddlery and harness houses report heavy volume of business. Manufacturers are running full handed, with a big supply of orders on hand, and are keenly looking for labor.

Retail trade has been very good notwithstanding the unseasonable weather.
Building activity has received a set back on account of the strike of the carpenters, but an adjustment is hoped for soon.

Mr. Logan C. Bouliware has resigned his position with Wallerstein,
Bros., to take a position with Roy L.
Cutley & Co. Mr. Bouliware makes window dressing and furnishing goods a specialty, and has taken many prizes from the National Window Dressers' Association for his work. He will have charge of the windows for the new firm, and also be manager of the furnishing department. He has been with Wallerstein for seven years. He goes East the first of next month to buy his department stock for the new firm.

Mr. Henry Schrott, the well known clothier and hatter, goes with Mr. Cutley as manager of the hat department. He has spent his entire life in the business, having been connected with all the houses here, and well known to the business.

Mr. Cutley has opened temporary headquarters upon the second floor of 302 Broadway, to use until his new building is completed. It will be some time in September before he is ready for business.

Bradstreet's Weekly Report.

While cooler weather has tempo-rally retarded retail sales of light weight fabrics and perhaps has severely affected fruits and early vegetables, events of the week have improved the great basis of conditions.
Growing grain is in fine shape; fall
orders except at a few points continue to expand, the labor situation is certainly more favorable; manufacturing in all lines of the country is active; new construction work is of marked proportions; demand for material is heavy; orders for steel rails are large; insurance situation easier and so are money rates while collection, save at a few centers, tend to improve, in fact underlying conditions could hardly be better. The industry situation shows marked improvement, besides ending the anthraxite strike shut down troubles in building trades have been very generally settled and it is now apparently having the greatest year in its history. The scarcity of labor is still a drawback to an apparently boundless activity in nearly all lines.
Failures this week 209 (no comparison.)

Weekly Bank Clearings.

New York, May 12.—Total bank clearings compiled by Bradstreet's for the principal cities in the United States for the past week are $2,099, 936,789, an increase of 18.1 per cent.
compared with corresponding period
of last year.

TWO KENTUCKIANS SHOT AS THIEVES IN CHATTANOOGA

Said They Were Robbing a Car At Time of Shooting.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 12.—Because they attempted to rob a Cincinnati Southern car in the yards
here this morning Night Watchman Jones shot and instantly killed Herbert Cornelson, of Danville, and fatally wounded Jack Richardson, of Lexington, Ky. Several shots were exchanged. Watchman Jones was arrested. Richardson is in the hospital.

Vice President Fairbank's Birthday.

Washington, May 12.—Vice President Fairbanks was 54 years old yesterday. He spent his time presiding over the senate in one of the busiest days of the session. He received the congratulations of his friends in the senate, as well as many messages
from friends throughout the country.

GIRL FASCINATED BY MONKEY

Wandered Off and Came Back in Thirty-Five Years.

Morristown, N. J., May 12.—There was joy in the village of Vernon, near Sussex when Anna Maboe, of whom nothing had been heard for thirty-five years, returned to the home of her aunt Mrs. Maboe Lyon.
When Anna was six years old a hand organ grinder with his monkey paid the village a visit. The little girl followed the music away. The child and the organ grinder disappeared, and Anna's relatives gave her up as dead.

Miss Maboe lives in Texas. She is unable to remember anything of her strange departure from the little hamlet. A few months ago she read of the Young Men's Christian Association
camp at Lake Wayawayanda, in Sussex county. The old Indian name brought back recollections of her childhood, and she began inquiries
which led to her return.

SALOON LIMITS ARE DECIDED ON

River to Tenth, and From Clay
to Norton Street.

The Ordinance Committee Last Night
Ordered Ordinances Brought In
at Once.

AUTOS MUST BE NUMBERED

At a meeting of the joint ordinance
committee of the council last night
an ordinance was ordered prepared and brought in at the next meeting of the council fixing the saloon limits,—the boundaries within which saloons will be licensed.

The licenses expire the first of June and the restrictions will affect many of the present saloons.

The mayor recommended that a measure of this sort be passed, in his annual message and the council has had it under advisement for some time.

The boundaries will be as follows:
From the river to the east side of Tenth street, and from the south side of Clay to the north side of Norton street.

The ordinance will pass the boards
as it is understood it was agreed upon in a caucus of the members.

The committee last night ordered an ordinance brought in specifying that all automobiles shall have numbers on them, and the number plate
shall be not less than four inches

The Sectional Trains for the Coal
Traffic Resumed Operations This Morning.

NEWS OF THE RAILROADS.

This morning for the first time since the coal strike was threatened the I. C. began running sectional trains for the special handling of coal trains.

The morning passenger accommodation train No. 122, from Fulton to Louisville, was preceded by two sections, Night engine and caboose trains. They go to the mines and turn around, returning with coal trains.

The I. C. stored such a great amount of coal to prepare for the strike, that it did not need the coal now being brought in. The miners having returned to work in full force and putting out abundance of coal which has to be moved to give more room for further operation.

Tom Glenn Here.

Mr. Tom Glenn, formerly operator at the local dispatching office, is in Paducah on a short visit to friends and relatives. Mr. Glenn left here last winter for the South and by diligent application succeeded in gaining a promotion. He is now second trick dispatcher for the I. C. at Durant, Miss. on the Aberdeen district.
He came in yesterday for a short rest, having been suffering from chills and fever. His wife will follow him in a few days on a visit to her parents.

W-H-O-O-P!

"And it came to pass,"
The Indians did it again and the Old Soldiers are the sicker, most down hearted looking bunch of "dubs" imaginable. Three straights and two of them nearly shintout "O pity me"—exclaim from Jack Wortham's closing remarks.
Well, the worst is yet to come, so cheer up Wortham, and don't waste your energy in telling how it happened. The summary sheets will show this and you'll need all your surplus gas and wind later in the season.

Mr. Tadlock Again.
It was Mr. "Del" Tadlock who did it again. This time it was not a one hit game, but it might as well have been. The minute "Del" took the leather sphere in his hand there was a perceptible slump in Danville stock.
The Indians were blood hungry, and blood they must have. They got it, and the bucket was drained to the very dregs, and yet their palates are dry again. Hoosiers take warning!

The Scouting.
The Indians had the game clinched from the first. It was a case of "daubers down" with the Worthams. In the third inning Chenault first up, singled to right field and Tadlock sacrificed him, to a second with a neat bunt down the third base line. Taylor popped out to short, and McClain placed a single to left-center field. Chenault scored and

"Mack went to second on the throw. Gilligan secured his usual single and scored "Mack," himself being retched between the bags in a misadventure resulting from a misadventure of the code signals.
In the fifth inning Miller hit for two sacks and came home on an error. Christman tried to catch him napping and threw to second. The ball passed the baseman and also the center fielder, Miller tallying with ease. The side was then retired in order.

In the seventh inning is where the slip occurred and so Danville was permitted to tally a run. Hayworth and Wills had been retired and Redden drew a pass to first. Spencer hit to Tadlock and the big pitcher fumbled. He threw to Haas, but too late to catch the runner. Redden passed second and tried to make third on the play. Haas caught him five feet but Tadlock and Wetzel tangled in accepting the throw and the ball rolled to third base fence. Redden scoring. Barrow struck out, retreating the side.

In the ninth inning the Soldiers had a chance to score but desperate playing on the part of the Indians took the cheer out of their work and it ended a goose egg blunder.

Wortham swallowed a big rising lump in his gullet and tried to console himself by "cussing" the "umps" and the Indians, singly and collectively.

Rain at Mattoon.
Mattoon, May 12.—No game here yesterday on account of wet ground at Urban park. Both teams are off for the home of the Lunatics where they open a new series.

Wiggins and Chenault or Nippert against Perdue and Mattison today.
Harry Cooper, the hitting fielder, stop with Vincennes last season, is back with the team. He did not make good in the O. & P. league.
Here is the way "Pap" Farabaker figures it out:

"The pitchers in the Kitty league must be weak this year when such awful, awful punk stickers as Bert Haas, of Paducah, and Wills, of Danville, can hit over 6%. No wonder. Look who is missing. Wilder, Wagner, Blitroff, Lane, Platt, Brahe, Prukes, Duggan, Becker, Carnes and the "Dumny." Doesn't that tell the tale?"

Is this the same Farabaker who misled the dope the past winter for the Calro Bulletin? Is this the same Farabaker who showed so clearly how and why the league would be faster this year than last?

His antics with the quill are as hard to understand as the following conundrum offered by the same writer in the same paper:

"What's the matter with Wolfe? Three games without a hit."

"Look at the 'Old Solers' groveling at the bottom of the heap. They may climb higher, but not under their present management. He's a huge

Bonds and Baffles.

Gilligan made a doable yesterday. It was a sensational play. He stopped a hot line drive three inches from the ground with his gloved hand and completed a double at first. It was so quickly done that the fans had to stop and study before the brilliancy of the play dawned upon them.

McClain got his usual hit or two yesterday. It is not a matter of chance with the Indians this season. They hit.

Perry played star ball as usual. Perry says he don't mind errors occasionally. "I am a married man and don't play for the glory or reputation," he says. He accepts more chances than any other infielder in the league.

Eddie Taylor seems to have been "donahed" by the Soldiers. He did not secure a hit this series and struck out more than he was ever before known to saw the wind. Go see an eye specialist, Eddie.

Respect of Law.

Much of the evil of non-enforcement of law in this country is due not primarily to official determination to laxity and negligence, but to a too prevailing disrespect of law. The public is too ready to wink at many forms of lawlessness and many instances of non-enforcement of law. Mob law, for instance, has been greatly encouraged by lack of a public sentiment to the sacredness of law. A community may be horrified and even moved to indignation by a brutal act of mob violence, but when it comes to a vindication of the law by the punishment of the violators the public mind too easily becomes tolerant of the offense and fails to respond effectually to the demands of justice. In other words, there is general public acquiescence in the theory that the law should be enforced and vindicated, but there is not that practical manifestation of a respect for the law and an appreciation of the value of law as a protecting agency of society. Some time ago Dr. Lyman Abbott said in a public address:

"What America needs is an earnest and loving obedience to law, and that we lack. We are a lawless people. We go our own way. The history of our past life has made us so. Every individual thinks that liberty means acting according to his own sweet will. What, more than anything else, we need in this country is the infusion into the nation, black and white, rich and poor, educated and ignorant, of a spirit of loving and earnest obedience to the law of man, because that is the exponent and expression of the law of God. And the rich need it just as well as the poor. And the educated need it just as much as the ignorant. In fact, I am rather inclined to think that the worst forms of lawbreaking are those by the rich and educated, not those by the ignorant and poor."

There are indications that the American people are beginning to have more of that respect for the law which tends to its more thorough enforcement. The public mind has been shocked by the revelation of great evils that threatened to undermine our institutions, and, in contemplating the need of more rigorous measures to meet the larger and more general forms of lawlessness, it is doubtless beginning to more sensibly appreciate the fact that it is as essential that there shall be law observance in the smaller matters which make up the bulk of social responsibility as it is to put down and punish the greater forms of lawlessness. The New York Mail referring to Dr. Abbott's plea for a love of law, takes an optimistic view it says:

"We have a more reverential feeling toward the law than we had before we discovered that so many people had violated it by ingenious and respectable means. Resentment in behalf of the law operates to attach us more closely to it. It is an impressive thing to see that no man in the country is so rich that he can flout the law with impunity. We have got along on the road. All we need now is to get along a little further, and raise ourselves, all of us, on the positive side of fence, in the field of 'earnest and loving' resolution to do the law's bidding."

ST. FRANCIS IN SAN FRANCISCO

I met old, lean St. Francis in a dream Wading knee-deep through the shores of his town.
The souls that he was helping up to Heaven
Were burnt or wrung out of the whirling flesh.
Said I, "When near a thousand are engulfed
In sudden indiscriminate destruction,
And half a million homeless are,
I know
This rotten world most blackly is accursed."
"When heroes are as countless as the flowers;
When sympathy," said he, "has opened wide
A hundred million generous human hearts,
I know the world is infinitely
blessed."

Enjoyable Surprise Party.

A pleasant surprise party with Miss Virginia Hush, of Smithland, for the honoree, who is the guest of Miss Isabelle Griffith, on North Thirtieth street, was given on Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Griffith. It was an enjoyable occasion and those present were: Misses Virginia Hush, Nannie Langston, Loreta, Greif, Jeanette Greif, Selma Pieper, Minnie Rotterlag, Isabelle Griffith; Messrs. Ernest Robbins, Herman Toof, John Henry Pieper, Henry Rotterlag, Grey Griffith.

Matinee Musical Club.

A very attractive meeting of the Matinee Musical club was held on Wednesday afternoon at the club's quarters, the Eagles' Home, on Broadway. The afternoon was devoted to Italian composers and the program included some of Paducah's most delightful talent. Mr. Harry Gilbert was the leader for the afternoon and those taking part were: Mrs. James Weille, Miss Virginia Newell, Mr. Harry Gilbert, Mr. Richard Scott, Mr. William Deal and Mr. Ernest S. Hagby.

There will be one more meeting of the club on May 23, before closing for the season.

U. D. C. Chapter.

Paducah chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, met on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Frank Colbourne at the Sanders Flats, on West Broadway. It was the regular May meeting and much routine business was before the chapter. At the conclusion of this attractive music was rendered by Miss Fannie Coleman and Miss Rella Coleman, and a delightful course-luncheon was served by the hostess.

Church Social Affairs.

The Ladies' Furnishing Society of the First Christian church was pleasantly entertained on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Williamson, on North Sixth street. An attractive musical program was rendered by Miss Mabel Shelton, Miss Willie Willis, Mrs. George B. Hart, Mr. Harry Gilbert and Mr. Richard Scott. Miss May B. Jennings gave a reading. Delightful refreshments were served during the afternoon.

A "Sidney Lanier Evening" was given by the Epworth League social and literary department of the Broadway Methodist church in the League parlors on Monday evening. The affair was in charge of the third vice-president, Miss Virginia Newell. On the program were: Mr. Will Scott and Dr. I. B. Howell in talks on "Lanier, the Man and Poet;" Mrs. Samuel T. Hubbard, Miss Floyd Swift, Dr. Vernon Hlythe in reading from Lanier's works; and Miss Elva Jones, of Clinton, Ky.; Miss Anne Bradshaw and Miss Nella Hatfield, who sang. A social evening followed the literary.

Miss Leigh Will Not Return.

Miss Ora V. Leigh, of Salt Lake City, has written friends here that she has no intention of leaving her western newspaper work. The announcement of her expected return to Paducah was presumably authoritative but was without her knowledge, and the correction is made in justice to Miss Leigh and the paper with which she is connected in Salt Lake. Miss Leigh's many friends here, both socially and in a newspaper way, will learn with regret that she is not coming back to Paducah.

Class Entertained.

Mrs. P. H. Stewart entertained the Philathea class of the First Baptist Sunday school Friday night, at her rooms at Hotel Craig. Music was enjoyed until 10:30, when supper was served at Hawkins' cafe. Those present were: Mrs. C. W. Lewis, Mrs. J. Yancey, Miss Ella Patterson, Mrs. Crosby, Mrs. Ruby Emery, Misses Kate Richardson, Sadie George, Annie Young, Ollie Wilson, Lella Holland, Isla Ellis, Manie Baynam and Mr. Harry Linkin.

About People.

Miss Pattle Crook, of Jackson, Tenn., was the guest of Miss Lillie May Winstead this week to see Viola Allen in "The Toast of the Town." She went from here to visit friends in Nashville and Chattanooga.

Mrs. Philip Frayser, of Princeton, Ky., is the guest of Mrs. Lillard Sanders on South Sixth street. Mrs. Frayser was formerly Miss Manie Pettit of Princeton, and is always a popular visitor in Paducah.

Mrs. Herman Nettleroth, of Louisville, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. James M. Buckner, at Jefferson and Eighth streets. She was formerly Miss Mary Luckner and is being cordially welcomed to her girlhood home.

Mrs. James Black, of Terre Haute Ind., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Milton Cope, and Mrs. Henry Bradley. Mrs. Black was formerly Miss Long McKnight, a popular Paducah girl.

Miss Julia Scott, who has spent the winter very delightfully in Los Angeles, Cal., is expected home Sunday morning. Miss Scott has been west since last July when she left with a party to attend the Portland Oregon exposition.

Mrs. Georgia K. Gage and Mrs. Charles A. Mohr of Mobile, Ala., who are the attractive guests of Mrs. Bertie F. Campbell, will leave for home on Monday. They have been honored guests at many pleasant affairs and have made a charming impression socially.

Dr. George Dullols will return home next week from Philadelphia, where he attended the College of Pharmacy and from which he has just been graduated. He is a bright and talented young fellow and came off with flying colors.

Miss Emma Morgan, one of the most talented teachers of the Paducah schools, has been placed on the program for the state educational meeting at Bowling Green in June, a signal recognition of her ability. It is safe to assert that Miss Morgan's paper will be something very "worth while" listening to, marked by charm as well as knowledge.

Miss Virginia Newell gave a very delightful lecture on "Parsifal," Thursday morning at the High School Auditorium. The lecture was illustrated with Parsifal music, played by Miss Newell and Mr. Harry Gilbert. Miss Newell is a charming speaker as well as musician and Mr. Gilbert's playlag is always a pleasure.

Bishop and Mrs. Charles E. Woodcock, of Louisville, will arrive Tuesday and will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Muscoe Burattin on West Broadway during the diocesan council session. It is Mrs. Woodcock's first visit to Paducah, but Bishop Woodcock has already won many friends here in previous visits.

Judge Henry Tyler, commanding general of the Forrest Corps, U. S. V., will give a month-end house party at his handsome home in Hickman, Ky., the latter part of May, and Miss Ethel Brooks, Paducah's charming sponsor at the New Orleans Confederate reunion, and Major David Koger of General Tyler's staff, are among the invited guests. Miss Brooks and Major Koger will attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin S. Cobb and little Miss Elizabeth Cobb of New York City, will arrive the 22nd to visit Mr. Cobb's mother, Mrs. Manie S. Cobb, on Broadway. Mr. Cobb will return to New York after his two weeks' vacation, which he preferred to spend in a "home-coming" to Paducah, but Mrs. Cobb and daughter after a longer stay will go to Savannah, Ga., to spend the summer with Mrs. Cobb's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Baker at their summer home on Tybee Island. Miss Maale Cobb is now visiting there.

Mrs. John C. Roth and little Miss Louise Roth, of Chicago, are the guests of Mrs. Joseph L. Friedman at "The Pines."

Miss May Phelps, of Washington, D. C., and Miss Anne Ray, of Nashville, Tenn., will arrive next week to visit Miss Henrietta Koger on Jefferson street, and to attend the Koger-Hlythe wedding, one of the early June marriages.

PAINTFULLY BURNED.

Boy Sealded While Kissing His Mother in Morning Salutation.

Master Alfred C. Theobald, the five-year-old son of Mr. Henry J. Theobald, of 1611 Tennessee street, was painfully sealded this morning at the breakfast table.

The little fellow has formed a habit of throwing his arms about his mother's neck in morning salutation. This morning he accidentally struck a cup of coffee and the boiling liquid was spilled on his left arm. The skin was sealded off and the little fellow suffers a great deal. The burn is not considered serious, however.

'Man's Curiosity.

At Eaton Hall, in the days of the old Duke of Westminster, there stood on the mantelpiece of the principal guest chamber a clock of somewhat remarkable design, says the Chicago Inter-Ocean, underneath hung a card bearing the legend:

"Please do not touch me." This room was set apart for bachelor visitors especially. An eminent politician to whom this room had always been allotted asked his host one evening, after dinner, the reason for the prohibitory injunction.

The duke replied: "I have often contended with my wife that women are more curious than men. To satisfy me to the contrary fact she has placed the clock, to which you refer, in the bachelors' room with the notice affixed to it. The result has been that every man, with one notable exception, who has occupied the room has asked me the reason of the notice."

"And who," inquired the visitor, "who, may I ask, was the notable exception?"

"Mr. Fawcett, the postmaster-general," was the reply, "but then, poor man, he was blind."

RELIC OF CIVIL WAR.

Minie Ball Taken From Pine Ship-ped from Georgia.

Messrs. M. G. Sale and Will Burch, employed in the planing mill, local I. C. shops, found relics of the Civil war in pine cut at the mill for use in making cabooses and engine pilots. Yellow pine is used in the construction of both cabooses and engine pilots, and while sawing through a pine board this morning Mr. Sale struck a snag. The snag proved to be a lead minie ball which had probably been shot into the street during the Civil war. It had been in so long that all trace of where it entered had been wiped out by age.

Mr. Burch found one yesterday and both bullets have been laid away as curios. The pine was shipped here from Georgia.

Exposure.

To cold draughts of air, to keen and cutting winds, sudden changes of the temperature, scanty clothing, undue exposure of the throat and neck after public speaking and playing, bring on coughs and colds.

Ballard's Horehound Syrup is the best cure. Mrs. A. Barr, Houston, Tex., writes, January 31, 1902: "One bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup cured me of a very bad cough. It is very pleasant to take."

SEWERAGE.

The question of sewerage for Paducah is a vital one, and should be given consideration above everything else. Until we get a good, healthy condition in every part of the city, it is folly to endeavor to locate new industries, with their attendant following of new people. Every enterprising merchant, in the prosecution of his business, gets what he has to offer his prospective customers up in the very best possible manner, makes his store as attractive as he can, and every condition that makes for increase in patronage is looked into. And, in the same measure, must a city that invites new comers and new industries to locate in it.

We must have the natural advantages to offer, and this, by all means, as a probable first consideration, must be supplemented by healthy conditions.

Paducah has the natural advantages to offer—transportation facilities, proximity to the raw material supplies, and the climatic conditions, so we must make the sanitary conditions.

We all know they could be better. We must all conclude they must BE better.

For instance, take the congested resident districts of the city, Third street, south of Norton, Worthen's addition, and below Trimble street, and note the absolute necessity of sewers there.

Demand sewerage for these districts. This is where the malaria, and germs and sickness are produced. If the landlords have not civic and personal pride enough to demand this, it should be forced, for this is what is most needed.

Too, the sanitary inspector should visit these districts frequently, and demand that lime, and lots of it, be used on the premises, to avoid the breeding of sickness.

FIRE INSURANCE INJUSTICE.

An earthquake is no justification for raising fire insurance rates, says New York World. The San Francisco losses, suggest a revision of fire-policies forms so that a difference should be made between fire risks proper and combined earthquake and fire risks. The plan of the fire insurance exchange, frequently called the fire insurance trust, to raise rates in New York City because of an earthquake in San Francisco is without logical basis. They continue the present fire insurance rates, which are very profitable, and will protect themselves against earthquake in a suitably discriminating manner.

The fire rates of New York City are already too high. Half of the present rate would pay all average losses and the only other contingency is the conflagration risk, which except in the congested dry goods district and the crowded tenement district is not very great.

The plan outlined by the president of one of the large companies to compute separately the average risk and the conflagration risk is sensible.

The mistake of some of the companies, notably two of the largest in New England, was to make a conflagration charge in their premiums and then distribute the results in dividends. Instead of setting the conflagration charge apart as an accumulative reserve to be applied solely to conflagration losses. This plan is more scientific and more just than a sweeping increase in rates to make the public pay for past lack of wisdom.

The Rev. D. C. Wright, of the Episcopal church, will deliver an address on "Civic Responsibility and Civic Improvement" at his church at 10:30 tomorrow morning. The Rev. Mr. Wright delivered this address at a meeting of the Commercial club a few weeks ago, and it was so well received, and contained such excellent suggestions, that he was asked to repeat it, and has concluded to do so, and enlarge on it in some details. Mr. Wright is very much interested in civic improvements, and has done some effective work for the betterment of the conditions in Paducah, therefore his address should prove very interesting. Mr. Wright's example could be followed, with great profit resulting to the city, by every citizen in Paducah. The Sun is very earnest in its efforts to assist in the civic improvements of Paducah, and hopes Mr. Wright's address will be heard by everyone else who is, as it must result in much good.

The trusts are taking to their holes and pulling these hiding places in after them. The paper trust, arraigned two years since before the circuit federal court in St. Paul, Minnesota, has finally confessed its guilt by agreeing to dissolve and to pay some fines assessed. The victory is a small one, but it is a victory nevertheless, being full recognition and clear evidence of the power of the law. The Sherman anti-trust law will squelch the trusts if enforced without doubt.

Mr. Bryan says he won't seek another nomination for president at the hands of the Democrats, but intimates he would accept one if "circumstances seem to demand it." The only fact of interest and the only surprise in the statement he will not seek another nomination at the hands of his party. Nothing could be easier to solve than the presidential contest of 1908 with Mr. Bryan the Democratic nominee.

There is no comment in the opposition or liberal press of Russia upon the czar's greeting to the duma when it convened Wednesday last, but what the people are saying of the paper and promising to do at the proper time is, to use a common expression, "a plenty." The greeting was barren in suggestions, promises or even hopes to the people, and its reception was accordingly.

It is explained why there are so many grand farms and farm homes in Indiana. The gravel pikes in the state, it is claimed if in one straight line, would stretch half around the world. Good roads and streets build up countries and cities quicker than anything else.

Is there a man in congress who will claim the railroad rate bill as his own when it is completed? There are some cheeky enough, of course, but is there one with the amount of unadulterated gall sufficient to make the claim?

The drug trust says it's not guilty. That's the proper defense, but can the trust prove its innocence? Let the evidence be taken; the verdict will alone satisfy the people.

Eagles' Excursion.

First annual excursion of Fraternal Order of Eagles, lodge, No. 1177, of Paducah, will be given Sunday, May 13, aboard the handsome steamer Louisiana to Cairo. Boat leaves wharf here at 8:30 a. m., returning leaves Cairo at 6 p. m. Good dancing music. No improper characters allowed. Round trip 75 cents.

Sanitation Hints.

Good sanitation for 1906 should be your motto. Clean your premises, keep them clean and sprinkle with lime.

Screen your doors and windows and keep out the housefly, the most dangerous of pests. It carries disease and infection.

The most effective money spent in advertising Paducah will be that spent in cleaning and draining it. Every citizen can help to do this, in their own way.

No mosquitoes, no malaria. A clean city no danger of yellow fever and typhoid.

A Central Park for a good morning breath.

TELLS BY THEIR SLEEP

"I can tell by my little ones' sleep when a cold is coming on" said a mother when speaking of the advance symptoms of colds in children. "They toss about, are restless, their breathing is heavy and there are symptoms of night sweats. The next morning I start with Scott's Emulsion. The chances are that in a day or two they are all over it. Their rest is again peaceful and the breathing normal."

Here's a suggestion for all mothers. Scott's Emulsion always has been almost magical in its action when used as the ounce of prevention. Nothing seems to overcome child weakness quite so effectively and quickly as Scott's Emulsion.

W. B. BOWNE, 400 Pearl St., New York.

UNUSUAL CASE

MAN "LEGALLY DEAD" THIED FOR MURDER AND CON-VICTED.

Point of Law Raised Which Is Being Watched With Interest by Attorneys.

Ben Huffner, a life prisoner at the Eddyville penitentiary who murdered B. Shirley, a fellow prisoner in the prison there, recently, was sentenced to be hung by Judge Thomas B. Cook. Huffner had been sentenced to the prison for life for the murder of his wife, and this other crime, committed for a trivial offense, was peculiarly atrocious. In the eye of the law he was already civilly dead, so that before he can be executed now he must first be pardoned for the first crime by the governor. This raises a point which according to the expressed opinion of several lawyers here has never been settled by the higher courts of Kentucky. Can a man civilly dead be convicted of another crime and sentenced therefor? Local lawyers will watch the developments of this case with considerable interest.

The suit of the commonwealth of Kentucky against the Illinois Central railroad for allowing gaming on its trains was tried also in Judge Cook's court at Eddyville and a verdict of $200 was rendered in favor of the state.

The case of Ratcliffe's administrator against the L. C. R. R. for $20,000 damages for the death of Ratcliffe will be tried Monday in Eddyville. The same case is in the federal court here.

While Americans take great pride and pleasure in being called "a strenuous people," it is perhaps not generally appreciated that a great many injure themselves physically—wreck nervous systems, invite premature wrinkles, gray hairs and infirmities by the hurry, worry way in which they live, neglecting in many instances proper care of the body and letting the real pleasures of life escape as a forfeit. Unrestrained strenuousness means neurasthenia ultimately.

Neurasthenia is nerve-exhaustion and that means inefficiency of the body to carry on vital functioning. Nerve centres lag; debility ensues; flatness and fatigue reign. Pain may be felt in the back; fullness or pressure at the top of the head; sleep is broken and without refreshment; digestion notably is weak and loss of appetite, constipation and distress after eating are the rule. The headache of neurasthenia is like a band around the head; ordinarily is worse in the morning and better towards the end of day, and is probably the most common of all headaches which come for treatment.

Now, drugs do not help neurasthenia; that is admitted; and physicians have long been accustomed to send their neurasthenics away from the cities to the mountains, seashore, abroad or anywhere to find new scenes and enjoy tranquil restoration. But that is expensive and there is a surer, quicker and better as well as less costly way—Osteopathy.

Osteopathy cures neurasthenia, which is but another name for nervousness, by stimulation to the nerves and the circulation.

I can show you to your satisfaction in a very few minutes why osteopathy is the same rational cure for ALL diseases of the nerves.

Come to see me at any time between the hours of 9 and 12 in the forenoon and 2 and 5 in the afternoon. Dr. G. B. Froage, 516 Broadway. Phone 1407.

The West End Stars baseball club defeated the R. A. R.'s in a well played game this morning by the score of 5 to 4. Hays, Hodge and Floyd were the battery for the West Ends and Stewart and Stewart for the R. A. R.'s.

SUPT. LIEB TO TAKE

A SPECIAL COURSE

Will Attend University at Chicago or New York.

Tennis Tournament Arranged—School Picnic—Summer Exodus of Teachers—A Meeting.

SCHOOL NOTES OF INTEREST

Mr. C. M. Lieb, superintendent of the city schools, has decided to take a special course in either the Chicago university, in Chicago, or the Columbia university in New York City, this summer, and will leave as soon as his work is straightened out after the final dismissal of school for the summer.

Mr. Lieb voluntarily remained in Paducah last summer, contrary to his usual custom, and inaugurated, acting as instructor himself, a normal training school for the benefit of local teachers who were not in a position to leave the city for special training. This year he has decided to take his usual course of summer revision work, but has not determined on where he will go.

Exodus of Teachers.

There will not be such a marked exodus of Paducah teachers to out-of-town normal and training schools this summer. Twelve have decided to attend the Chicago university and two the Peabody at Nashville. There are several others who have not definitely decided yet, and will not until after the elections of teachers which will be held June 5 at the regular board meeting.

In the matter of teachers' elections a great deal of interest is manifested. There are two teachers who are to be married, it is reliably stated, and one or two to voluntarily resign. This will cause four vacancies but there is abundance of material to draw from. The board will this year have little trouble in filling what few vacancies exist.

Honors to Supt. Lieb.

Supt. C. M. Lieb, who is third vice president of the State Educational Association, was requested to permit his name to be programmed for the state meeting but refused as he will be away attending college.

Tennis Tournament.

The athletic department of the schools has arranged a local tennis tournament for next week. The program has not yet been definitely decided on but there will be several contests lasting through the week. There will be both singles and doubles, single male teams and single female teams. There will be double girl and double boy teams and combinations in all events. Medals will be given and a small entrance fee charged. Following this the club will select the best players for a team to challenge Cairo or other nearby towns.

Amateur Theatricals.

Next week the dramatic work will be featured in the high school. The junior class will give a presentation of a scene from the Merchant of Venice. The sophomore class will give a presentation of one scene from Julius Caesar. Both classes have been rehearsed in the parts, and a great deal of interest is being taken in the work. These features are under the direction of Miss Emma Morgan, teacher of English.

School Picnic.

Today Misses Emma Acker and Louise Dedrick, teachers of the A and B divisions of the A grade, high school building, are giving their pupils an outing. It is a picnic and there are 110 in the two classes. The picnic is being held in the county, wagons being used to convey the pupils to the woods.

Last Teachers' Meeting.

Yesterday afternoon the last regular monthly teachers' meeting, was held and the course in "McMurray's Methods of Recitation" completed. A great deal of good was accomplished by the teachers in this subject during the two terms, and next year a subject pertaining to the profession will probably be selected. This seems to be the inclination of the teachers.

SPECIAL SERMON.

Rector of Grace Church Will Preach Civic Sermon Sunday Morning—Officials Invited.

"Civic Responsibility and Civic Improvement" will be the subject of an address by Rev. D. C. Wright tomorrow morning at Grace Episcopal church. Special invitations have been sent out to all the municipal boards and officials to attend. This is the address which attracted much favorable comment when delivered recently before the Commercial club. As it bears upon a subject of deep interest to all good citizens, Mr. Wright should have many to hear him. He is not only an eloquent and forcible speaker, but is broad, progressive and sane in his views.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO WAIT Every dose makes you feel better. Lax-Pur keeps your whole system right. Sold on the mass back pine everywhere. Price 10c.

Good blood, good health; bad blood, bad health; there you have it. Why not help nature just a little and change the bad to the good? Bad blood to good blood; poor blood to rich blood! Ask your doctor how this applies to Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and how it applies to you! Could anything be more fair?

Name on a shoe and sold by such a store Geo. Rock Shoe Co. is two of the strongest guarantees that you can get in a shoe proposition. THINK IT OVER. In showing the Paducah public this shoe we are taking second place to no other shoe manufactured. These shoes are hand lasted, which gives them comfort, style and durability not found in every line, though you do pay as much for other shoes to your dealer. We picked this line because we wanted a strictly high grade shoe to give our patrons comfort and build up a reputation for our store. This we are doing fast and our sales on this highest grade shoemaking has already grown past our expectations. Try a pair.

TIPS.

DO YOU EVER stop to think what a market place these columns are? It is remarkable the number of ways in which The Sun's want ad columns are used. If you have anything at all for sale, you will most probably find a purchaser by putting in a little want ad. Some one may be looking for just what you want. Try it.

IT IS INCONCEIVABLE what you can do through the medium of an ad in this column. It is the most widely read column in the paper, and is a veritable market place for the people who have anything they wish to dispose of, houses to rent, rooms to rent, will take boarders, have lost anything and so on through the list. Try it yourself.

IN CLEANING HOUSE, did you find some old clothes, or furniture or ornaments you have no use for? Try selling them by a little want ad in this column. You may strike the right person at the right time.

ARE YOU DISSATISFIED for any reason with the house you live in? Get another through this column. There are a host of desirable houses in Paducah just now, and you will get what you want.

WOULD YOU LIKE a few boarders, advertise for them in this column. Every day we get tired of our boarding houses and would welcome a change if we knew where to go. You will find it by a Tips ad.

IF YOU ARE going away for the summer, the Tips column will rent your furnished house for you, or your rooms.

THE GOOD THINGS OF EARTH

Are Not All Far-Fetches.

That our American forests abound in plants, the roots of which are the most valuable medicinal and curative virtues, is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers of our age. Even the illustrious Indian had, by intuition and experiment, discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race on this continent. This information, crude though it was, imparted freely to the friendly of the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until today we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots and herbs.

It is no longer thought necessary that a medicinal agent, in order to be good and useful, must have been brought across the ocean or that "being carried seven times across the Sahara Desert on the backs of fourteen camels" makes it the more valuable.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most of our obstinate and most fatal diseases, and would properly investigate them; and, in confirmation of this firm conviction, he points with pride to the most marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing ailments, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured of flatulent colic, painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus and other displacements, ulceration of uterus and kindred affections, often after many other advertised medicines had failed.

Both these world-famed medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots, found in our American forests. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each of their wrappers. They are both made of such native medicinal roots as have received the strongest endorsement and praise for their curative virtues from the most prominent writers on "Medicine in this country." What is said of their power to cure the several diseases for which they are advised may be easily learned by sending your name and address to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a little booklet which he has compiled, containing copious extracts from numerous standard medical books, which are considered as authorities by physicians of the several schools of practice for their guidance in prescribing. It is FREE TO ALL. A postal card request will bring it.

You don't have to rely solely upon the manufacturer's say-so as to the power of Dr. Pierce's medicines to cure, as with other medicines sold through druggists. You have the disinterested testimony of a host of the leading medical writers and teachers. Send for this cordant testimony. It can be relied upon to be truthful because it is entirely disinterested.

From the little booklet above mentioned, you will learn what a marvelous curative action Stone Root, one of the prominent ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, exerts over the kidneys and its diseases, especially those venereal affections which are attended with difficult breathing, smothered sensations, palpitation of irregular heart action, Dr. Fatio, author of Fatio's Epitome of Medicine, considered Stone root specific in these cases, and cited cases cured by it in his extensive practice. Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of Dr. Pierce's "Discovery," is also a valuable heart tonic, as it also Black Cherry bark, another ingredient. You will also learn that the eminent Drs. Hille, Ellingwood, Johnson, Hare, Coe and others recommend Golden Seal root, and several of them Stone root. Queen's root, Hoodroot and Black Cherry bark for bronchial, throat and lung affections attended with hoarseness, persistent cough, night sweats and kindred symptoms indicating approaching consumption. All these agents are faithfully and fully represented in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and it can be confidently relied upon to produce their combined curative effects not only in the above mentioned affections, but also in all chronic diseases, no matter whether affecting the nasal passages or other regions of the body.

In nasal catarrh, while relying on the "Discovery" as the best constitutional remedy known to medical science, Dr. Sazo's Catarrh Remedy should be used to cleanse the nasal passages. Together they constitute the most thorough and effective course of treatment which can be employed for the cure of that troublesome disease.

No other medicines sold through druggists for like purposes, have any such professional endorsement as Dr. Pierce's, and, in consequence, none are so largely prescribed by physicians who know what they are made of and that their curative action is of the best ingredients regardless of cost. Send for the little five book now.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" must not be expected to produce miracles. While it is especially suited for the cure of all chronic diseases, it is not so effective in acute colds and coughs unless slippery elm mucilage, flaxseed tea, solution of gum arabic, or other mucilaginous demulcent be drunk freely in connection with its use. Nor must the "Discovery" be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages. In its early stages it will stay its progress and often effect a cure if its use be persisted in for a reasonable length of time. Send for the little book mailed above and learn what those most eminent to the medical profession say of the ingredients out of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are made and thereby learn why they cure obstinate diseases.

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation of the bowels, loss of appetite, coated tongue, sour stomach, windy belchings, "heart-burn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. ### NEW SKYSCRAPER ON MOST COSTLY SITE

Builders of Eighteen-Story Office Building Pay $600 a Square Foot for Location.

New York, May 11.—Wall street is to have a new skyscraper which will enjoy the distinction of occupying the most valuable plot of ground in the world. This is located at the southeast corner of Broadway and Wall street, opposite Trinity church. It will be put up by a St. Louis Co. at a cost of $300,000, and will be ready for occupancy about January 1, 1927.

The new skyscraper will be one of the most remarkable buildings ever constructed. Although it will rise to a height of 220 feet, the foundations will be only 30 by 39 feet. This is the tallest building ever put up on so small a base, and architects have had to give particular attention to utilizing every inch of this space and to bracing the structure against wind. The interior of the new building will be of steel and bronze finish, but there will be no attempt at ornamentation. Instead of embellishment, the architects have been bent upon making the structure absolutely fire-proof.

HOW YOU CAN HELP PADUCAH

Do not throw paper in the streets, or into other public places.

Do not make dumping grounds of vacant lots.

Do not allow rubbish to accumulate on your premises, burn it.

Set your neighbor a good example by keeping up your lawns, fences and your buildings, and call his attention to this movement.

Keep the sidewalks and street in front of your property free from stones and rubbish. Do not allow the clerk or porter to sweep the filthy dust from your store or sidewalk into people's faces as they pass along the street.

If you have a cow, keep it at home.

If you know of a public nuisance, report it to the city hall. If it is not abated, report it to the newspaper editors, and let them publicly call attention to it. Always think of others as well as yourself.

For a painful burn there is nothing like DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. There are a host of imitations of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve on the market—see that you get the genuine.

MCGOVERN FAMILY ROMANCE FINALLY COMES TO LIGHT.

Hughey Married Artist's Model and Is Found Out.

New York, May 12.—Every time that Hughey McGovern, younger brother of Terry, has fought in the squared circle during the last year a dapper little blonde chap sat near the ringside and called to him in a high-pitched voice to "Go it, Hughey." "Put it all over him, Hughey," and "Ah, that's going some, boy," if McGovern landed well. It came out in Coney Island police court today that the little blonde rooster was a girl, and that the fighter had married her secretly a year ago.

The fighter kept his romance a carefully guarded secret from his sporting friends, and the fraternity was surprised at the news. It would have been a secret still if Hughey hadn't felt forced to tell the story in police court yesterday.

A few days ago McGovern had a disagreement with William Secor, proprietor of the Hough Riders' roller-coaster at Coney Island, and Secor got a black eye. The two McGovern appeared in police court on a summons. Peace was soon fixed up. Hughey made his confession of matrimony and pointed out his pretty little blonde wife in the audience.

The two had quarreled some weeks ago, but court room meeting made them forget the vexations of the past and off they trotted together.

Mrs. Hughey was an artist's model before her marriage and sat for some of Howard Chandler Christy's best-known works. She gave up the name of Dollie Gray to marry Hughey.

RUSSIAN HOUSE OF PARLIAMENT

Place Unsited for the Use of the Body.

It Is Out of the Way and Not Large Enough by Half.

BUILDING ERECTED IN 1789

St. Petersburg, May 12.—The conversion of the Tauride Palace, built by the Empress Catherine II. for her favorite, Prince Grigori Potemkin in 1789, for parliament purposes, the Russian lower house having convened there yesterday, has recalled the prophetic speech delivered by the now deceased privy councillor, Potemkin, at a dinner given during the industrial exposition in the palace four years ago.

Commenting on the evolution through which Russia was passing, M. Potemkin drew a parallel between the dancing pomps of Potemkin and his fellow courtiers and the boots of the peasants whose tread was then heard in the chambers of the palace and added, with unrealized significance: "I assure you, gentlemen, the peasant's foot has a firm tread, and where it has once set foot it is not easily driven out."

An uncomfortable pause followed his words, though few of the high functionaries then realized how soon the peasant representatives would be entering into their inheritance.

Bold Idea.

The idea of locating the Russian lower house of parliament in the old Tauride Palace was a bold one, so little was the building suited, by situation and original design for this purpose. It is located in the remotest eastern section of the city, a half hour's drive from the Winter Palace, the ministries and the building of the Council of the Empire, the other branch of the legislature, and though alterations have produced a meeting place of fair size and good acoustical properties, large assembly, the facilities of food rooms, archives, chancellery, public and press are largely inadequate.

Architecturally the palace, which was designed by Staroff, another of the favorites of Catherine II, lacks merit. It is a tasteless cross of Greek, Roman and Pompeian styles, the dominant idea of the Parthenon at Rome, which was taken as the model for the body of the building, being disfigured at either end by rectangular wings which stretch forward to the street, enclosing a garden with fountains and statuary. The dome on the main building is too small and set too far back to break up the uncomplainingly square, barracks-like effect of the building, the best feature of which is the Greek facade stretching from wing to wing with the main entrance under a central portico supported by six massive Doric columns of granite.

Through this is reached the parliament hall, occupying the rear half of the body of the building, passing en route through a narrow vestibule in circular hall whose lofty flat ceiling, eighty feet high, is by clever decorative work given a domed effect, and the old ball-room, a magnificent hall about 250 feet long adorned with two double rows of graceful ionic columns. From this hall, which will be used as the members lobby and promenade, large folding doors open into the assembly hall, formerly the winter garden of the palace, in which Potemkin gave his famous feast. It is rectangular in shape, with a large semi-circular alcove or bay almost as broad as the hall and enclosed in glass. The hall is little more than half the size of the hall of the house of representatives at Washington.

County District Sunday School Convention.

The Sunday school convention of the Seventh district of the county will be held at the McKendree church, at Lamont, on Thursday night May 17th. Lectures and addresses will be made by Rev. T. C. Gebauer, of Louisville, state field worker; Rev. Wm. Bourquin, of Paducah, president of the County Sunday School Association; Rev. Watts of Lovelaceville, and others. Every body interested in Sunday school work is requested to attend and especially the superintendents and teachers of each Sunday school of the district. New plans for more interest are to be discussed.

A torpid, inactive liver can produce more bodily ills than almost anything else. It is good to clean the system out occasionally. DeWitt's Little Early Risers, Reliable, effective, pleasant pills with a reputation. Never gripe. Sold by Lang Bros.

Illinois Lodges Organize. It is unofficially stated that 76 lodges in lower Illinois have formed an association to be known as the Southern Illinois Odd Fellows' Association. This is said to be the result of the controversy between Paducah officers of the Interstate Association and President Joyner, of Carbondale, the latter who wanted to postpone the annual meeting from the 26th of April to May 3.

THE VELVET SECRET IS FREE TO YOU

THE LONGER THE LESSER---A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

After many years of study and practice a prominent Virginia physician has discovered the cure for all forms of Constipation. It is called Chase's Constipation Tablet. I do not mean, said the Virginia Doctor to several of his colleagues assembled in success—that this is a fake cure-all, guaranteed to cure every thing from pleurisy to paralysis, neither do I mean just another pill which breaks the pot belly; my remedy is a cure for one thing—a specific which never fails. By gently removing the digestive organs, that they perform their natural functions. It restores them all to health and strength, relieves immediately and in a short time cures Constipation.

THE MORE THE LESS

When you take the less you need until you need none—for you are cured. My effort all along was to avoid the evil of this ordinary remedy which purges organs already weak and makes the patient a slave to the pill. Remember—Nature expects every organ to do its duty.

Physicians have long recognized the fact that constipation is at the bottom of nearly every disease. It opens the doors to all evil germs and makes the body too weak to resist them.

THE VELVET WORKER

Don't shuffle along with this great burden. Be healthy, be strong, be happy.

When a man's liver is working properly, his bowels are regular and the kidneys are active and healthy. What a joy it is to live. You get up in the morning feeling rested and bright after a good night's sleep with a keen appetite for breakfast and healthy relief for each month, and when you go out the air smells good and you feel your lungs with pleasure; the sun shines, the birds sing, your every sense is acute and spontaneous, the blood bubbles through your veins, carrying life and activity to every minute cell and tissue, your bones are high, your mind clear, your spirit high, you sleep sweetly and you thank God that everything is so beautiful and that it is so good to live.

No man or woman with torpid liver, constipated bowels and pained nerves ever feels like that. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of Chase's Constipation Tablets, and after a fair trial you find the remedy is real and it is represented to be, your druggist will refund money without question or argument. Watch shape bottles, that in the next pocket, 25 cents.

FREE TRIAL OFFER

Many readers who send to us for name and address with five stamps to cover postage expenses, we will at once mail a full size 25-cent bottle of Chase's Constipation Tablets, the velvet worker that cures. Not a sample, please, but a full size 25-cent bottle, let us prove to you. Write today, enclosing stamps.

Between Two Shores

ELLEN
GLASGOW

McLURE CO.

She nodded. "This is our last evening," she said. "We will make it long."

"However long we make it, there is always tomorrow."

Her face clouded. "Yes, there is tomorrow," she admitted.

She fell into step with him, and they walked the length of the deck. Once she lost her balance, and he laid his hand upon her arm. When she recovered herself he did not remove it.

"We will go far up," she said. "We will look straight out to sea and forget what is behind us."

"I am we forget it?" he asked gloomily.

She smiled into his face. "I will make you," she answered. "Put your hands upon the railing—so—and watch the boat as it cuts the waves. Is it not like a bird? And see, the stars are coming out."

A salt spray dashed into their faces as they leaned far over. A wet wind blew past them, and she put up her hand to hold her hat. Her skirts were wrapped closely about her, and her figure seemed to grow taller in the gray fog that rose from the sea. The ethereal quality in her appearance was emphasized.

He drew away from her. "You are too delicate for my rough hands," he said.

"Am I?" she laughed softly; then a rising passion swelled in her voice. "I should choose to be broken by you to being crushed by any other man."

His face whitened. "Don't say that," he protested hoarsely.

"Why not, since it is true?"

"It is not true."

A half moon was mounting into the heavens, and it lit the sea with a path of silver. The pearl-colored mist floated ahead of the steamer, fluttering like the tiny garments of a water sprite.

A dozen stars hung overhead.

"But it is true," she answered. Her words rang clearly, with a triumphant note. For a time he did not speak.

In the light of the half moon she saw the desperate furrows upon his face. His hands were clenched.

"There is time yet," he said at last, "to withdraw a false play. Take your love back."

She trembled, and her lips parted. "I cannot," she replied, "and I would not."

He stretched out his arms as if to draw her toward him, and she faltered.

"From the beginning I have lied to you—lied, do you hear?"

before the passion in his glance. Then he fell back. "What a mess you are making of your life," he said.

But his warning eyes had reassured her. "The mess is already made," she responded.

"But it is not," he returned. Then he summoned his flagging force. "And it shall not be."

"How will you prevent it?"

"By an appeal to reason."

She laughed. "What love was ever ruled by reason?"

"By proofs."

She laughed again. "What proof ever shattered faith?"

"Great God!" he retorted passionately. "Stop! Think a moment! Look things in the face. What do you know of me?"

"I know that I love you."

"I tell you I am a devil!"

"And I do not believe you."

"Go back to America and ask the first man you meet."

"Why should I respect his opinion?"

"Because it is the opinion of the respectable public."

"Then I don't respect the respectable public."

"You ought to."

"I don't agree with you."

Again he was silent, and again he faced her. "What is it that you love in me?" he demanded. "It is not my face."

"Certainly not."

"Nor my manners?"

"Hardly."

"Is there anything about me that is especially attractive?"

"I have not observed it."

"Then I'll be hanged if I know what it is!"

"So will I."

He sighed impatiently. "No woman ever discovered it before," he said. "I have known all sorts and conditions. But, then, I never knew a woman like you."

"I am glad of that," she responded. "I would give two-thirds of my future—such as it is—if I had not known you."

"And yet you love me?"

He made a step toward her, his face quivering. But his words were harsh. "My love is a rotten weed," he said. Then he turned from her, gazing gloomily out to sea. Across the water the path of moonlight lay unruffled. Small, brisk waves were playing around the flying steamer. Suddenly he faced her.

"Listen," he said.

She bent her head.

"From the beginning I have lied to you—lied, do you hear? I singled you out for my own selfish ends. All my kindness, as you call it, was because of its usefulness to me. While you looked on in innocence I made you a tool in my hands for the furtherance of my own purposes. Even those confounded prayers were sent to you from any other motive than sympathy."

She shivered, supporting herself against the railing. "I—I don't understand," she stammered.

"Then listen again: I needed you, and I used you. There is not a soul in this boat but believes me to be your husband. I have created the impression because I was a desperate man and it aided me. My name is not even Lawrence Smith!"

"Stop," she said faintly. For an instant she staggered toward him; then her grasp upon the railing tightened. "Go on," she added.

His face was as gray as the fog which shrouded it. "I left America a hunted man. When I reach the other side I shall find them still men on tracks. It is for an act which they call by any name. And yet I would do it over again. It was justice."

She was shivering as from a strong wind. "I—I don't think I understand you," she said.

"I have led a ruined life," he went on hurriedly. "My past record is not a pretty one, and yet there is no spot in my life which I regret so little as the one for which they are running me down. It was a deed of honor, though I left behind upon my hands."

Her quivering face was turned away. "I reached New York with the assistance of a friend, the only man on earth who knows and believes in me. He secured a stateroom from an L. Smith, who was debauched. I took his name as a safeguard, and when I saw yours beside me at table I concluded he was your husband, and I played his part in the eyes of the passengers. I sneaked out well." He laughed bitterly. "Lawrence was a guess," he added.

"Then before her stricken eyes his recklessness fell from him. "Oh, if I could undo this," he said. "I would go back gladly to stand my chances of the gallows!"

A sob broke from her. "Hush," she said wildly. "Have you no mercy—none?"

"You must believe this," he went on passionately. "That at the last I loved you. You must believe."

She shook her head almost deliriously.

"You must believe it," he repeated savagely. "If I could make you believe it, I would lie down to let you walk over me. You must believe that I have loved you as I have loved no other woman in my life—as I could love no other woman but you. You must believe that." He put out his hands as if to touch her, but she shrank away.

"No, no," she cried. And she fled into the obscurity of the deck.

All that night she sat upon the edge of her berth. Her eyes were strained, and she stared blankly at the foam breaking against the porthole. Thought hung suspended, and she felt herself rocking motionally like a ship in open sea. She saw her future brought to lay before the threatening present, and she glanced furtively around in search of some byway of escape. The walls of the little stateroom seemed closing upon her, and she felt the upper berth bearing down. She sobbed convulsively.

"It was so short," she said.

When she came upon deck next day it was high tide, and the steamer was drawing into Liverpool. She wore a closely fitting jacket and carried a small bag in her hand. Through her lowered veil her eyes showed with scarlet lids, as if she had been weeping. The crowd of passengers, leaning eagerly over the railing, parted slightly, and she caught a glimpse of the English landing, peopled by strange English faces. A sob stuck in her throat, and she fell hastily into a corner. She dreaded setting foot upon a strange shore. She heard the excited voices vaguely, as she heard them seven days ago upon sailing. They grated upon her ears with the harsh insistence of unshared gaiety and made her own unhappiness the more poignant.

"Why, there is Jack!" came out the voice of a woman in front of her. "Lead me the glasses. Yes, it is Jack. He came up from London to meet me."

Then the steamer drifted slowly to the landing, and the voyage was over. She saw the gangways swing across, and she saw a dozen men stroll leisurely aboard. Yes, the end had come. "There is no harm in goodbye," said a voice at her side.

She turned hastily. He was looking down upon her, his eyes filled with the odd haunting gloom. "Goodbye," she answered.

He held out his hand. "And you will go home like a sensible woman and forget?"

"I will go home."

His face whitened. "And forget?"

"Perhaps."

"It is wise."

She looked up at him, her eyes wet with tears. "Oh, how could you?" she cried brokenly. "How could you?"

He shook his head. "Don't think of me," he responded. "It is not worth the trouble."

The hand that held her bag shook nervously. "I wish I had never seen you," she said.

Then a voice started them.

"So you have got your wife safely across, Mr. Smith," it said, "and no worse for the voyage. May I have the pleasure?"

It was the ship's surgeon, a large man with a jovial face. "I am afraid it was not the brightest of honey-moons," he added, with attempted facetiousness. She looked up, her face paling, a sudden terror in her eyes.

A man with a telegram in his hand passed them, glancing from right to left. He stopped suddenly, wheeled round and came toward them.

All at once her voice rang clear. She laid her hand upon the arm of the man beside her. "It is a honeymoon," she said, and she smiled into the surgeon's face, "so bright that even sickness couldn't dim it. You know, it has lasted eight years!"

The surgeon smiled, and the strange man passed on.

Some one took her hand, and they descended the gangway together. As she stepped upon the landing he looked down at her, his eyes aflame.

"For God's sake," he said, "tell me what it means!"

Her glance did not waver. "It means," she answered, "that I am on your side forever."

His hand closed over the one he held. "I ought to send you back," he said. "I cannot."

"You cannot," she repeated resolutely.

Then her voice softened. "God bless that detective!" she added fervently.

Across the passion in his eyes shot a gleam of his old reckless humor. "It was God's man after a tourist," he said, "but God bless him!"

TOWN'S DILEMMA

MAYOR KEMP DECAPITS AND TOWN IS DEAD "HURKE."

Being Without Executive Head, a Deadlock in Council, Conditions Are Trying.

Tampien, Ill., May 12.—Is there any city in the United States that can spare its mayor? Is there any town that can lend for a few months its executive head? If so, please notify Tampien. For Tampien's mayor has decapitated and left the burg in a hopeless tangle.

The mayor's name is Kemp, but if he lingers much longer in the north the citizens of Tampien threaten to change the K. to H. and act upon the inspiration. Kemp is in Canada, and the board of aldermen stands at loggerheads with three of its members high license advocates and three staunch "drys." Worst of all, May 1 was the day for payment of license fees, but, owing to the absence of the mayor and the tangle in the council, there was none to say whether the drams should remain in business or not, and therefore the owners refused to make first payments. The result was they closed their doors, and the city is not only without license money, but the thirsty wayfarer is unable to humor his hobby.

In desperation Tampien endeavored to settle matters a few nights ago. The high license aldermen had consulted a lawyer, who advised them to hold a meeting and elect a "dry" mayor pro tem, which in no sense would change the lineup in the council, but would give Tampien an authoritative head. The no-license aldermen were warned and got the first move. They nominated a high license councilman for mayor pro tem, and the vote stood 3 to 2. Every member of the body was placed in nomination during the session, and the vote remained the same—a tie. Then all went home dejected.

In the meantime Mayor Kemp keeps writing home that he is still mayor and will not surrender the office. This has enraged his best friends, for a few months ago, when Kemp went to Canada, his high license supporters agreed to furnish him transportation once a month to his home city, Kemp, however, has made no trip here, and the no-license people are secretly elated. They say that they have won their fight by default.

Hospital Board Adjourns With Little Accomplished—The Matters Considered.

The I. C. railroad hospital association concluded its meeting yesterday afternoon without arranging any definite plans relative to improving the yard and facilities this summer.

The matter of removing the fence was discussed but no action taken. The board seemed to favor building a disinfecting ward at once, but did nothing towards putting the idea into execution.

The board decided to hold a special meeting next month to decide on plans for the laundry which will be one improvement built this summer.

Growing Aches and Pains.

Mrs. Josie Sumner, Bremond, Tex., writes, April 15, 1902: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment in my family for three years. I would not be without it in the house. I have used it on my little girl for growing pains and aches in her knees. It cured her right away. I have also used it for frost bitten feet, with good success. It is the best liniment I ever used." 25c, 50c and $1.00.

In a Prohibition State.

In the capital city of Maine, in a hotel not far from the railroad station, was employed for some years before the enactment of the Sturgis law a very popular dispenser of ardent comfort, according to the Boston Herald. One stormy night the train from Bangor was belated until nearly midnight, and a party of Boston men arrived, tired and hungry. After registering, they spied a light in the dispensary, and found the "chemist" on duty, and a supply of malt and spirituous fluids and some crackers and cheese were obtained.

As the ordinances of most cities in prohibition states required 10 o'clock closing, "Juke" was asked why he happened to be open so late.

"Well," he replied, "we don't generally, but just now the legislature is in session, and we have to be accommodating to the members."

A Positive Necessity.

Having to lay upon my bed for 14 days from a severely bruised leg, I only found relief when I used a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. I can cheerfully recommend it as the best medicine for bruises ever sent to the afflicted. It has now become a positive necessity upon myself.

GRAND JURY

SUMMONS STATE LEGISLATURE IN A BRIEF INVESTIGATION.

Boston District Attorney to Call Every Day State Lawmaker Before the Body.

Boston, Mass., May 12.—Every member of the state legislature—there are 240 representatives and forty senators—is to be summoned before the grand jury of Suffolk county to give all the information he may have concerning the reported bribery which is said to have defeated the anti-bucketshop and "over-time" bills recently. This is believed to be the first time that an entire legislature ever has been summoned before a grand jury, and the investigation is expected to be the most sensational ever carried on in this state.

The first batch of seventy-five legislators appeared before the grand jury yesterday when District Attorney John E. Moran began the inquiry. Before the week ends the entire membership of both houses and senate will have been questioned. A renegade was created in the state-house today when the subpoena served appeared. They began at the head of the alphabetical list of the members of the house and were careful to overlook no man. Tomorrow another batch will be summoned for inquiry, and the rest will be ordered to appear on Saturday.

Many Rumors of Bribery.
Since the defeat of the bucketshop bill last week there have been many rumors of bribery, one story being to the effect that the bucketshop promoters raised and expended a fund of $70,000. Three representatives, Swig, Leonard and Tolland, have said publicly they were offered money to vote against the bill. Thos. W. Lawson has offered a reward of $5,000 for evidence which will convict one man of bribery and also has offered Mr. Moran $25,000 to pay the expenses of the investigation, if he will accept the money. Some weeks ago, when the "over-time" bill was defeated, there were charges of bribery, but these were not investigated. Now Mr. Moran intends to have the grand jury inquire into this matter as well as the more recent rumors.

It is asserted that Mr. Moran has information that the fund of $70,000 to defeat the bucketshop bill was collected in haste and placed in the hands of lobbyists for distribution but unfortunately for the bribers there were among the lobbyists some amateurs who made the mistake of approaching the wrong men and made a mess of it.

House Committee Acts.
The committee on rules of the house held a protracted meeting this afternoon to consider whether it should recommend that the house order an investigation of the alleged bribery. There appeared before the committee Representatives Swig, Leonard, Thompson and Tolland and Attorney General Dana Malone. No decision to be reported to the house was reached and the matter will be taken up again tomorrow.

The "over-time" bill was advocated by labor unions to prevent the employment of women and children in mills at night. It was defeated by the unexplained absence of several senators who were pledged to its support. The bucketshop bill was a measure further to restrict the buying and selling of stocks on margins. It was passed by the senate, but was defeated in the house after one of the most bitter contests known. It would have made all bucketshops illegal in Massachusetts.

A. W. C. T. U. Lecturer.
Mrs. Mary A. Balch, state corresponding secretary of the A. W. C. T. U. will deliver a lecture in the Broadway Methodist church next Tuesday evening under the auspices of the local A. W. C. T. U. Mrs. Balch is a woman of wide experience in this work. For many years she was one of the national organizers and lectured in a large number of states in the North and West. She is said to be logical, clear and convincing in her arguments.
